Conference venue and accommodation

The European Regional Conference on Goats 2025 will be held in Spain (Tenerife, Canary Island).

The organizing committee has selected the Guajara Campus at the University of La Laguna as the venue.

Accommodation options will be provided by the meeting secretary. San Cristóbal de La Laguna offers a wonderful environment and a welcoming atmosphere, ideal for hosting a successful conference.

Conference topics

The Conference addresses four topics related to global goat production:

- ✓ Animal health and welfare
- ✓ Genetic and reproduction
- ✓ Nutrition and physiology
- ✓ Precision goat farming, production systems and product quality

Seminar proceedings

The Conference Proceedings, including the keynote lectures, theater presentations, and posters selected by the Scientific Committee, will be published by the University of La Laguna's publishing service.

Language

The official language of the conference will be English.
